iLit Family Letter

Grade 5, Unit 3

Dear Parent or Caregiver:

In Unit 3 of the iLit program, your child is engaged in many learning activities that support mastery of the English Language Development Standards (ELD Standards) and the Common Core State Standards for English Language Arts (CCSS for ELA). The ELD Standards and the CCSS for ELA are aligned. Accordingly, aligned ELD Standards and CCSS for ELA for this unit of instruction are cited together in parentheses within this letter. ELD Standards are cited first, and CCSS for ELA second.*

During Unit 3, students learn the characteristics of drama as they read two plays (PI.5.6; RL.5.10). Fabulous Perpetual Motion Machine by Don Abramson is about the science project the Pérez twins will present at a science fair. The twins seem to have exceeded their goal of avoiding doing the usual "done to death" projects by inventing a machine that will make history. In Stormi Giovanni Club by Lydia R. Diamond, fifth-grader Stormi Giovanni finds herself in a new home and school one time more than she can stand. But her determination to avoid making new friends, who she fears she will only lose, waivers as her interesting classmates draw her out.

As students read and discuss the play, they describe how the plot unfolds and how the characters respond and change (PI.5.6; RL.5.2). They also cite textual evidence that supports analysis of the texts (PI.5.6; RL.5.1); use context clues to determine the meaning of unknown and multiple-meaning words (PI.5.6; L.5.4); acquire and use grade-appropriate vocabulary (PI.5.12; L.5.6); and demonstrate an understanding of word relationships and nuances in word meaning (PI.5.8; L.5.5). In addition, they engage in collaborative discussions on a variety of topics, including the ideas they encounter in the plays (PI.5.1, PI.5.5; SL.5.1).

Students also complete a collaborative project that involves writing a final scene and presenting that scene to an audience (PI.5.9; SL.5.4). To present their scene accurately, students analyze the impact of specific word choices (PI.5.8; RL.5.4) and adapt their speech to effectively represent the characters (PI.5.4: SL.5.6).

To support your child's learning during this unit, here are some suggestions for at-home activities:

- Ask your child to describe the play that is being read aloud in class. Inquire about the characters, setting, and plot. Ask if there is a character that reminds your child of someone he or she knows in real life and, if so, who that person is and how he or she and the character are alike.
- Ask your child to describe the collaborative unit project and the role he or she is taking. Ask how the project represents important characteristics of drama, such as characters, dialogue, and plot.
- Ask your child about the book that he or she is currently reading during independent reading time, including the reasons why your child chose the book. You may then wish to take your child to the local public library to find books on the same topic or by the same author.

Thank you for your support of your child's learning.

Sincerely,
